Restorer and Hair Dresser,

Both Combined in One,

Trust no other, however pleasant—
None can do what this has done;
Try it—always keep it present—
Use the 'Martha Washington"

Twenty thousand heads remind us
What a noble feat it's stood,
Millions more shall come behind us,
With their tresses all restored

It will keep the Hair soft and glossy, change gray hair to its original color, prevent the hair from falling out or getting thin, make old heads look young, and do all that can be reasonably expected of a genuine, first-rate Hair Restorer. All who have used the "Martha Washington" pronounce it superior to everything of the WASHINGTON, July 9—In the Surratt trial, Professor Eastman, of the National observatory testified that the moon did not rise on the night of the assassination until after ten o'clock At 11 it was cloudy, and the moon could not have illuminated the side of any building that night Others testified to the same effect Several witnesses impeached the character of John Lee, one of the witnesses for the prosecution. Merrick offered the record of trial and conviction of Cleaver and another witness, but Carrington objected to its admission on the ground that a new trial had been granted in their case.

Supplementary Reconstruction Bill.

The New York Times special dispatch says that the Reconstruction Committee has agreed to the following bill, to be reported on Wednesday

Section 1 declares that the true intent and meaning of Congress to have been that the Provisional Governments heretofore existing in the rebel States were illegal and void and that they were to be continued subject in all respects to the control of military commanders and the authority of Congress

Section two provides that the act to which this is supplemental, also that of March 23d, shall be considered to authorize military commanders whenever they deem it necessary to remove or suspend any official acting under State or municipal existing authority by virtue of such provisional government and appoint others to fill their places Such commanders have also power to prohibit or suspend any such government or any subordinate authority thereof, the intent of said acts being that such governments shall be continued subordinate to the military, and all acts done by commanders shall be deemed valid

Section three provides that Boards of Registration shall admit to registry only such persons as they shall deem entitled to registration under the provisions of the acts aforesaid Taking the oath prescribed by the act of March 2d is not to be regarded as conclusive of the right of registration but prima facie They may receive such evidence under oath as they deem proper Boards of Registration may strike from the list of names persons already registered, who in their judgment, improperly took the oath or are not entitled to be registered and they shall not be bound in their action by any opinion of any officer of the United States Government

Section four provides that no civil court of the United States or any State shall have jurisdiction of any proceeding civil or criminal, against any District Commander for any official act done under these acts

Section five declares that no District Commander shall be removed from his command without the advice and consent of the Senate unless cashiered or dismissed, or unless he consents thereto

The Senate Judiciary Committee have agreed to a bill similar to that introduced by Edmunds but less stringent than the above

NEW YORK, July 8,—The Tribune's special says the members of the reconstruction committee had a bill each of their own, from all of which one bill has been formed and unanimously agreed upon, Brooks, Democrat being abroad An attempt will be made to have both Committees report the same bill It seems certain that the House will order the Judiciary Committee to report on the impeachment, when a recess will be asked until October.

The Tribune special says the President signifies his willingness to approve any bill confined to declaring the intention of Congress in former acts, leaving it understood that he is opposed to the whole scheme

THURSDAY MORNING, JULY 11, 1867

Soldiers and Politicians.

An item in the dispatches published this morning, indicates, to some extent, how the people of the South are divided on the subject of reconstruction The division is natural and to be expected All soldiers, the fighting men of the South, favor immediate compliance with the law politicians oppose it. The former, who were manly and brave enough to fight for the issues which politicians had raised, are also manly enough to yield the point when fairly decided against them Besides, they have seen enough of revolution and bloodshed. The memories of their dead kindred, their own sanctities during the war, their own scars, and the wretched condition of their own section as the natural consequence of civil war, all admonish them, each with an eloquent tongue, of the folly of longer continuing the unnatural strife. Having tried the arbitrament of war and failed, their chief wish is now peace. Before the war, their politicians deceived them. During the war, the northern Democracy failed them. Naturally enough, then, they now have a stronger confidence in Congress and the people whom they met on the battle-field than in the wily, deceitful and unscrupulous politicians who led them into trouble and then failed to provide a way out. They have a very clear appreciation of how determined the North is in the policies made vital by the rebellion, and how futile it will be to resist them. They evidently have no confidence in the ability of Andrew Johnson to secure for them anything better than the terms of the reconstruction act. They have seen how powerless he is to stem the irresistible current of popular loyal opinion. They have learned how dangerous it is to trust in princes, especially princes of evil. Seeing what they have seen and knowing what they have learned, the Southern men who fought the battles of the South, frankly and manfully accept the situation and desire that the reconstruction of the Union shall not be delayed.

On the other hand, the politicians and sneaks who brewed the storm, but took good care to remain under the shelter of home, are opposed to an early reunion of the people. They formerly governed the South through the existence of sectional jealousies and ill-feeling which they, themselves, fomented. They have no hope of political power through any other agencies. These men are Democrats who remember but too well, for the good of the South, the means by which the Democratic party held the dominant power in the Nation for so long a time. That party depended always on the discord of sections to perpetuate its supremacy. The South was always kept alienated as completely as possible, from the other portions of the Union. The reconstruction which is going on, if finally successful, will lose these breeders of mischief, their occupations. That consideration is at the bottom of the politicians' opposition to the reconstruction measures of Congress,

In the North, men are divided on the reconstruction plan much as it is the South. The soldiers, and the men who backed them with money, sympathy and kind words, are now supporting the Congressional policy. The sneaks and poltroons who staid at home and from their holes, sent on encouragement to rebels, and rejoiced when rebels beat the Union armies, are now bitterly opposed to all practicable plans of reconstruction. They would consent readily enough to any plan which would retain the old elements of discord, which would leave the sections still arrayed against each other, but to none other. Their reasons for such opposition, are identical with those of the Southern politicians. The reconstruction of the Government upon any principles equal in their application in all the States, would leave the Democratic politicians and sneaks without power or influence.

Death of Judge Wayne.

The dispatches under date of July 3d contain an announcement of the continued dangerous illness, at Washington, of Judge Swayne. Under date of July 5th, we have the news of the death, by typhoid fever, of Judge Wayne; and the dispatches published this morning, speak of the funeral of Judge Wayne. Judge James M. Wayne is from Georgia; Judge Noah H. Swayne, also an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, is from Ohio. The several dispatches, doubtless refer to Judge Wayne, of Georgia, who is an aged man and has long been in feeble health. He has been on the supreme bench over thirty-two years, having been appointed by President Jackson, January 9th, 1835, in the place of Wm. Johnson, deceased, and confirmed by the Senate on the same day. At the time of his appointment he occupied a leading position among the lawyers of Georgia and has always maintained a fair standing among his associates of the Supreme Court. His decease leaves no vacancy, as by the law of Congress of July 23d, 1866, it is provided that upon the vacation of a seat upon the Supreme bench, by death, resignation or otherwise, the office shall be deemed abolished, until the number of Justices, including the Chief Justice, shall be reduced to seven—six associates and one chief. The number now remaining, is eight.

Endearing Them.

The members of Congress do not seem to have been much frightened at the late Johnsonian bull, issued by Johnson's man Friday. It does not seem, either, to have convinced them that the military commanders of the southern districts are dangerous men; or that the New Orleans and Mobile and other "conservative" rioters ought to be at once intrusted with the charge of affairs. The prompt endorsement of Generals Sheridan, Pope, Sickles and Schofield, indicate how little Congress cares for the Executive from and in what appreciation it holds those gallant men who cannot be corrupted nor driven from their loyal integrity. The members of Congress had just arrived from their homes, and may therefore be supposed to have reflected the views of the people, among whom they had been mingling. These Generals are evidently to be supported in their just administration of the laws; and not only supported, but, as they have shown themselves faithful in smaller things, they are to be clothed with greater powers.

The Marysville Appeal entered upon its sixteenth volume, July 2d. The Appeal, as a Union journal, marches always squarely to the front. As a newspaper, it has no superior in the interior of the State, save the Sacramento Union. At present it is driving a deservedly severe tilt against those sore headed journals which have defied the regular Union State nominees, and are assisting, with what influence they have left, to elect the copperhead-rebel-Pacific Republic candidates. Long live the Appeal.

The Pacific Tribune of Olympia, says the election of Stephen Mason and P B. Johnson is certified to the Secretary of the Territory by the County Auditor of Walla Walla. The Representative elect from Stevens county, Park Winans, is a firm and outspoken Radical. All right. The Union party in the House has seventeen members.

DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 10.—Union Hall was crowded to overflowing last evening, on the occasion of the Democrats holding their ratification meeting, and it is said that many were unable to get into the hall Gen. Cazneau called the meeting to order and Col. P Hoge was appointed Chairman In taking the Chair Col. Hoge made a brief speech, in which he named the object of the meeting to do publicly what had already been done in all their hearts, to ratify the Democratic nominations He urged them all to support the ticket as one well worthy of their support Every man on it was worthy of public confidence and no political juggling had anything to do with their nominations

Mr Haight spoke as follows

Fellow Citizens—I stand before you to-night a candidate for public office, and that the highest and most responsible one in your gift The position is not of my seeking Nothing was further from my thoughts than that I should ever be a candidate for any public position whatever In consenting to assume this responsibility I yielded to the representations of gentlemen in whose judgement and sincerity I had confidence, who urged it upon me as a duty which I owed to you and the State of my adoption Those who know me know full well that my object is not personal aggrandizement, for I was well aware of the sacrifice which I should make by diverting my attention from my private affairs to engage in a political canvass But the great confidence manifested to me by the press and the people since my nomination, I desire to make my most grateful acknowledgments There are few things which I desire more highly than the respect and good will of the people of San Francisco. Fellow-citizens, while political differences will never affect the friendship of liberal minded men, it is not to be forgotten that I am here to-night as the advocate of certain views, all bearing upon questions, some of which are specially important to the people of this State; and while I shall express my own views with entire frankness I trust I shall do so with that consideration for the views and feelings of those who differ from me, which becomes always the citizens of a common country mutually desirous to promote its highest welfare and its true glory Before alluding to those questions you will indulge me in a few personal observations. I cannot, of course, expect to escape the usual amount of personal defamation in which partisans indulge during a political canvass The only charges made against me as yet, so far as I am aware, are that that in a speech made in this Hall in 1864, I applied abusive epithets to Mr. Lincoln. The main proof this is the report of my remarks in the Democratic Press The epithets attributed to me in that report as having been applied to Mr. Abraham Lincoln, I never uttered for the proof of this, I will refer to Gov Stanley and Mr Casserly, who sat immediately behind me on the stage. The reporter used the language giving what he considered the substance of my remarks The other reports are still more incorrect I communicated freely upon Mr. Lincoln as the opposing candidate for the Presidency and as a public officer, and much more freely upon Mr Stanton, who in my opinion, had done gross injustice to Gen McClellan, and was by his advice and influence bringing the country into fearful jeopardy. Under the same circumstances, I would do so again. My remark about the Penitentiary, was precisely in this form Messrs. Wade and Davis, two of his party friends, bring charges against him, as to the truth of which, I assert nothing, but which, if true, ought to consign him to the penitentiary. My severest strictures upon Mr Lincoln, were formed upon the manifesto of Messrs B F. Wade, of Ohio, and Henry Winter Davis, and as to the truth of their charges I expressly reserved an opinion. In common with all true men, I was filled with sorrow at Mr. Lincoln's tragic death. I considered it a National calamity then and I consider it so still. Had he lived I have no more doubt that the Union would have been fully restored two years ago, and that he would have pursued the same policy which we now advocate than I have of my existence The terms applied to Mr. Stanton were quotations from Senator Bontah, and were not original with me. As to Gen McDowell, there was not one word nor syllable in my speech which reflected upon him in any way whatever.

FROM PUGET SOUND.

Our Olympia correspondent writes, July 7th: The celebration of the 4th passed off quietly, and although there were ringing of bells, firing of cannon, and waving of flags, yet the festivity of the occasion was tame, the local papers to the contrary notwithstanding—and all owing to the lack of that dinner! A large number of people from Victoria, from other parts on the Sound, and from the country, were here; and although the firemen marched with music to the capitol, and a few citizens struggled up there under difficulties unsurmountable, by a gay marshal and sundry aids, yet the only real celebration which your correspondent saw, was Young America with its fire-crackers. The firemen's ball at night was good, and somewhat redeemed the dullness of the day. No drunkenness or rowdyism occurred, and no more serious accident than half a dozen fellows falling with a plane whereby one got his head scratched, and a poor dog made the victim of a bunch of fire-crackers which were tied to his tail. Have you see the want of a dinner—then I could have given you some items worth printing! The oration, however, is worth noticing, as in the course of it Pee Dee became very radical with the negro. He had been selected undoubtedly for his former political standing, supposing that he would not dare "go back" upon his old friends. They had forgotten that he had lately been "reconstructed." Your correspondent feels glad that the biters have got bitten—in fact, feels happy Had there been a dinner, nothing of this kind would have occurred! I will put this point down for further observance: The 4th of July cannot be duly celebrated upon an empty stomach!

An agent for the sale of King county bonds (to raise a fund of two thousand dollars, to which the Territory adds a like amount when raised, for the opening of a road through the Snoqualimme Pass of the Cascades) has been in town the past week He met with very little success in this country. Most of the bonds, however, have been sold in the counties below. A contract has been let to open the road, at about the low figure of one hundred and forty dollars per mile A good road is needed, but none can be opened on such small amounts, and it is perfect foolishness to spend a few hundred dollars upon an enterprise that requires thousands to open and keep open, so that the snows and storms of every succeeding winter will not completely obstruct passage over it

The brig Fauntleroy has been in the harbor the past week, and will sail to-morrow, for duty.

The Tanner Troupe performed last night, at the Tanoma Hall, to a slim audience

PRAYERS FOR THE PRESS.—The Presbyterians in session at Rochester have been discussing a proposition that the Assembly should institute special prayers for persons connected with the press in the United States One of the speakers made eloquent reference to the hardships of the daily reporter, and another expressed an earnest desire that he (the reporter) should hereafter be more frequently the subject of special prayer This is all very well, for, as everybody knows, the reporting fraternity are a graceless set. But are there no other classes who equally deserve a like special attention? There are the lawyer and pastor, the grocer, the butcher, and, above all, the landlord Why should they be neglected and only the newspaper reporter specially remembered?—Bulletin's N. Y. Letter.

STATE ITEMS.

T H Farrell, of Canyonville, has sued Sol Abraham and George Harmes for slander, fixing the damages at $50,000

The Record says the firemen a ball at Salem on the evening of the 4th, realized about $125 over expenses The money goes for the benefit of the fire company

A man named Nichols has lately exhibited at Canyonville, Douglas county, gold and silver bearing rock, which he says was found on Cow Creek, in that county

We learn that the saw-mill, formerly owned by Burroughs on Griffin Creek, was burned last week The origin of the fire is not stated So says the Sentinel of the 6th

The Albany Journal has bolsted the names of Schuyler Colfax, for President and George H Williams for Vice President The Sentinel still sticks to Gen Grant, but names no one for Vice President

The Pioneer Oil Company, incorporated last winter, C M Cartwright, President, have commenced work on Mill Creek, near the old Parsonage, says the Record, and expect to have their buildings completed by the first of September The mill itself will be 38 by 46 feet, three stories high, and will use a water power engaged of the Willamette Woolen Manufacturing Company. The warehouse will be 40 by 46 feet, two stories high The machinery will probably arrive by that time, and the company expect to be making oil before the month of September is passed away

The finding of the huge tusks and bones on Missouri Gulch, last week, says the Sentinel, disclosed the fact that some remains of the same kind were known of at Phœnix. An effort was made on Sunday to exhume them, but it was found that they were too much decayed One immense tusk was uncovered at a depth of only two feet for a distance of eleven feet, but unfortunately it was entirely too rotten to be taken up This is the third locality in Southern Oregon, in which the bones of these Ante-deluvian monsters have been found, some having been dug out at Sterlingville a few years since, in an excellent state of preservation.

Says the Sentinel.—"Our old friend Clarke, formerly telographer at this place has been heard from at New Orleans. He was about starting for South America, with a company of emigrants who were under the auspices of the Venezuelan Government. The scheme is very attractive Each emigrant is given a large tract of land free from taxes for ten years, and enjoys immunities not granted to the natives of the country The ancient city of Augustura, on the Orinoco river, is the destination of the colony It lies in the eighth degree of North latitude, and the climate is said to be the most delightful in the world. A large emigration is already pouring in from the South"

A correspondent at Oakland, under date, July 8th, writes "A sad accident occurred yesterday (Sunday) morning, in Walker's valley, sixteen miles from this place A Mr Jamie and his son started out to hunt for deer, and upon hearing a thicket on the opposite sides, and had not proceeded far when the son seeing what he supposed to be a deer, fired his rifle and hunting (if you can) his horror when he discovered the mistake he had made—he had shot his father through the head The young man is almost crazy at the result of the fatal shot. Mr. Jamie was about 60 years of age He crossed the plains last year and was a good citizen He leaves a family to mourn his untimely loss

We learn from a gentleman who came down yesterday that Revs I. D Driver and Benj Todd have concluded an arrangement to discuss in Salem the following resolution "Resolved, That the Scriptures as contained in the Old and New Testaments, were given by Divine inspiration." Mr. Driver argues affirmatively and Todd denies. The discussion opened last evening in the court house. Some disagreement about an offer of Mr Todd to pay Mr Driver or any other man to meet him in Portland, having occurred between the gentlemen, a compromise was effected by which two doorkeepers were appointed—one to receive admission fees for Mr. Driver and the other for Mr. Todd. Each one of the audience pays to whichever he or she pleases. The discussion is to continue four or five evenings.

SUDDEN CHANGES OF WEATHER are productive of Throat Diseases, Coughs Colds, &c. CHOLERA.

MR PERRY DAVIS:—The benefits I have received from the use of your invaluable remedy, the Pain Killer, induces me to pen a word in its praise Experience has convinced me that for Headache, Indigestion, Pain in the Stomach, or any other part of the system, severe Chills, Weariness, common Colds, Hoarseness, CHOLERA, CHOLERA MORBUS, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Toothache, etc, THERE IS NOTHING BETTER THAN THE PAIN KILLER I have this hour recovered from a severe attack of the Sick Headache, by using two teaspoonful, taken at thirty minutes interval, in a wine glass full of hot water. I am confident, through the blessing of God, it saved me from the cholera in the summer of 1849 Travelling amid heat, dust, toil, change of diet, and constant exposure to an infected atmosphere, my system was daily prostrated to dysentery attacks, accompanied with pain, for which the Pain Killer was a sovereign remedy, one teaspoonful curing the worse case in an hour, or, at the most, half a day. I have heard of many cases of Dysentery being cured by its use. Put in the tooth, it will stop the toothache. Gratitude and a desire for its general use, has drawn from me this unsolicited testimonial in its favor.

NEW FUR COMPANY.—There has been formed a gigantic corporation, the objects of which are set forth below. No doubt it has been formed with a hope of obtaining an early foothold in our new Territory of Wairussia. The item is clipped from a California paper. It says "The certificate of incorporation of the North Pacific Fur Company has been filed in the office of the County Clerk. The objects for which this incorporation are formed are to buy and sell goods, wares and merchandize of every description; to carry on general trade and commerce with the North Pacific Coast and Islands; to transact a general commercial and shipping business; to buy, sell and charter vessels; to carry on the business of mining and to purchase and sell mines in the Pacific States and Territories, and within any of the possessions of the United States on the Pacific Coast; to purchase and sell real estate in said States, Territories and Possessions, to manufacture woolen, cotton and other goods; and to build, or purchase and maintain, wharves and docks, and carry on the business of wharfing and docking in such places as may be thought proper within such States, Territories possessions; and to establish and maintain warehouses and houses of trade, wherever deemed necessary for carrying on the business aforesaid. Capital stock $1,000,000, divided into 10,000 shares of $100 each. Time of existence, fifty years. The Trustees elected for the first three months are Lloyd Tevis, J. Mora Moss, Peter L. Bryan, William E. Barron and Samuel F. Butterworth. The eight members of the corporation are Bon. Holladay, W A. Richardson, Charles Baum, S. F. Butterworth, Thomas H. Selfridge and W. H. L. Barnes. The principal place of business is San Francisco."

WAITING.—The following beautiful description of waiting is so true to life that we reproduce it. It should so happen that the reader has before read it, why pass it over. The writer of the same must have spoken from real experience: "A group of splendid ones is on the floor, and lovingly mated, and gents encircle their partners waist with one arm. The ladies and gentlemen closely face to face. They are very erect and less a little back. The ladies lean a little forward. (Music.) Now all wheel and whirl, circle and curl. Feet and heels of gents go rip, rap, rap! rap. Ladies feet go tippety, tip, tippety, tip, tip. Then all go rippety, clipperty, slipper, slipper, slippety; hoppety, jumpity, sumpity, thumpity, helter sky off by centrifugal momentum. Gents pull in their beard and close—rest, swing, slide, look tender, look silly, look dizzy. Next fly, trousers fly, all fly. It looks higgledy, huggledy, pugilty, squeakity, greasity, rubbity, rip. Eyes like cross between steelyards and thimble; backs of beetles and jolluted Xs. The maidens tuck down their chins very low, or raise them exceedingly, some giggle and frown, some sneer, and all sweat freely. The ladies' faces are brought against those of the men, or into their bosoms, breast against breast, nose against nose, toes against toes. Now they are again making a second like scurpy, pourpy, dorpy-pourpy, didy pilly, cocily, poochy. "This dance is not much, but the extras are glorious." If the men were women, there would be no such fun. But they are only men and so the dancing can be by women's love of it.

CIRCUIT COURT—SHATTUCK, JUDGE.—The following are the entries of this Court yesterday:

Ann Harker et al vs T. W. Case et al; default of defendants Alfred and Jas B. Harker appointed receiver.

Lee Ken vs Frances Ken; plaintiff granted divorce and custody of Hester Een, infant child of defendant and plaintiff.

John Gove vs Sarah C. Gove; plaintiff granted divorce.

Same vs James Gill; plea, not guilty entered in both cases.

State vs Jack Gillmain, indicted for larceny of boots in the house of Vedict of jury, guilty as charged and fixing the value at $5.

State vs Alexander Clary, indicted for gambling; pleaded guilty and fined $50 and costs—in default of payment to be committed to jail for 25 days.

State vs Chas. Starr, set for trial this morning at 10 o'clock.

State vs George Russell, indicted for larceny on a wharf; pleaded guilty of larceny of property of value of less than $25, which was accepted and defendant fined $5, and costs; to be imprisoned in county jail for twenty five days in default of payment.

SAD ACCIDENT.—Mr. Wm. Keys met with a serious accident yesterday while at work excavating the earth for the purpose of the bridge for the up-town street. While at the bottom of the ditch (which was three feet wide and about 8 feet deep) the bank caved down upon him, burying him up to his waist in earth. He immediately called for assistance, and before he had hardly time to do so, another bank came down upon him from the surface of the excavation, covering him entirely up. His fellow workmen hastily heard his cries, immediately rushed to his assistance, and finding him entirely covered with earth proceeded with their hands to clear the dirt from his head, that he might be able to breathe. He came near being suffocated, having remained in the condition described from one-half a minute to a minute to accomplishing this much, the most as soon as possible relieved the rest of his body, and immediately sent for a physician. Dr. Gilsan informed us that he had received an injury to the spine, but he may recover. We saw the man half an hour after the accident and he was suffering terribly from his injury. His head and face were bruised very much, a hard lump of gravel and earth having struck him on the parts bruised.

AN ORPHAN OF CHANCE.—William Keys, the laboring man so badly injured yesterday has a family—consisting of wife and children. We made inquiry and the wife informed us that they depended upon the labor of the father and husband for their daily bread. Our work from today they will be in need of a supply of provisions. It is quite probable that a long time will elapse before the protector of this helpless family will be able to do any work of indeed, he ever recovers. This family is very lately from the States, from Delaware county, Indiana, having arrived here less than two months ago. Work being scarce, he has not been able to lay up any money for future needs. We would call the attention of the Philanthropic Society to the helpless family, and hope that the money raised by their concert may not lay idly by, while there are in our midst those who are suffering for bread.

PACIFIC COUNTY ROADS AND PORTLAND CEMENT WORKS.—Prof. F. Hopkinson's discovery of cement is now about to be turned to account. This gentleman years ago found very extensive quarry of superior cement, rock fooling on the Columbia river just opposite Astoria, in Pacific county, W. T. For years it has lain unworked, but the Prof. has now entered into a partnership if the mine with the enterprising Messrs Kimpp & Burrell, well known in this city and San Francisco, and soon they will be prepared to put into the market a large quantity of his much needed article, of home manufacture. The rock has been thoroughly tested and found to be of a superior quality. Success to the enterprise.

KICKING HORSES.—Yesterday, immediately after the extinguishment of the fire at Shattuck's blacksmith shop, a horse attached to a light wagon, was driven up, and all at once the strap of the "breeching" broke and let the same down. The lively horse then kicked the horse was accustomed to wear it. Being a sensible horse, and wishing to let the driver know that "something was down," he kept kicking. The driver commenced hallooing "Whoa! Whoa!" At length the horse "whoa'd," and three men stopped forward, quieted the frightened animal and the damage was repaired, when all went as before—and we had found an item.

REGISTER IN BANKRUPTCY.—Chief Justice Chase has nominated to Judge Deady, Mr. J. B. Underwood as Register in Bankruptcy in this District. Mr. Underwood has written to Judge Deady declining the place. We understand that Mr. Underwood was commended to the Chief Justice by Gen. Whitney and Gen. Cornell without his knowledge. Upon the arrival of the Senators Mr. Underwood informed them he could not accept the place on account of his private business. Williams and Cornell then sent the name of another gentleman to the Chief Justice by telegraph, and we may expect to hear the result of it soon.

LORD'S PRAYER.—Alfred Graden, Esq, yesterday exhibited to us a series of photographic pictures of the Lord's Prayer, beautifully lettered. The original picture from which these photographs are taken was designed, and made exclusively with the pen by D. T. Brown, and is the result of six years' close labor. The Prayer is surrounded by the bust of the Savior, and appears in bold relief in the centre, and those of the twelve apostles against the body of the picture. This is really one of the finest works of art extant. Mr. Graden will exhibit his work with pleasure to all who desire to see them.

BANK OF FIRE.—Yesterday, as everybody was jogging along as usual, about four o'clock in the afternoon, the fire bells sounded. We rushed with the crowd and found that T. Shattuck's blacksmith shop had been on fire. It was supposed to have caught from a spark from the chimney, as the forges were fired up. A hole was burnt through the roof, and was first discovered by a workman, who discovered the burning cinders falling upon the floor below. The fire was extinguished before the engines were called into requisition, although the alarm was promptly responded to.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT—DEADY JUDGE.—This Court yesterday was engaged in trial of the case entitled United States vs. J. F. Walsh. On the information of one S. A. Rood, an action was commenced against the defendant for the recovery of the penalty of $50 per box, attached to the insufficiency of stamps on each box of cigars manufactured by him. Gov Gibbs appeared for the United States and W. W. Page for the defendant. After being out several hours, the jury found for the plaintiff in the sum of $300.

THE OREGON IRON WORKS.—At a meeting of the Stockholders of the Oregon Iron Works, held yesterday evening, it was unanimously resolved to rebuild the establishment. A committee consisting of David McCully, S. Coffin, A. Meyers, Wm. Masters and W. Lair Hill, was appointed to select a site for the establishment. It is not probable the old site will be again adopted. The work will be commenced as soon as the place is selected.

TUGBOAT.—The People's Transportation Company launched at Oregon City yesterday the first of four tugboats for the purposes of the upper Willamette river during low water in the summer. They are to be 15 feet beam and 90 feet in length. By dividing the freight between two lighters and hashing one to each side of a tug no trouble is apprehended in crossing the ugly bars which impede navigation above.

ICE COOL.—We were almost wholly unable to keep cool Sunday until Phillip Hornung brought into the office a fine chunk of cold, colder, coldest ice, of the most beautiful kind and quality, known as the "Cave Ice," of which all parties interested thank Mr. Hornung sincerely.

IN COUNCIL.—The body of city legislators met last night, and there not being a quorum present adjourned. Those present were Councilman Besser, Burch, McCraken and Mallory. Those absent were Councilmen Fechheimer, Bullock, Rosenheim, Porter and Ripley.

THE FINANCIER.—This steamship arrived at Victoria from Hong Kong on yesterday, and will depart from thence to S. F. on Saturday morning next.

PROMOTED.—The Senator yesterday brought down the following freight: 18 boxes merchandize, 15 bf barrels merchandize, 32 sacks bacon, 3 bales woolens, 1 package merchandize, 301 sacks flour, 10 packages plunder, 137 sacks wheat, 2 boxes eggs.

HIGH WATER.—The waters of the Columbia and Willamette, we are informed, has for the past few days been receding at the rate of about six inches per day. It will not be long ere the low water of summer will be with us once again.

GONE THIS MORNING.—Theodore B. Minor, Esq., leaves this morning for Albany, New York, his former home. He carries with him the well wishes of the many friends he has made in Oregon, by upright behavior and manly conduct.

COAL.—The Okanagan yesterday brought from Victor's coal bank, near Monticello, 35 tons of coal, ten tons of which is for the O. S. N. Co., and the balance for the ocean steamers. The coal is reported to be of excellent quality.

FOUND.—John Newman, we are informed, found a gentleman's breast-pin yesterday in the hall leading to the United States District Court room, which Mr. Zieber says he is desirous of returning to the owner.

THE PIONEERS.—Every member of the Pioneer Base Ball Club are requested to appear on the Club's grounds for practice this evening at half-past 5 o'clock sharp. Hercof, fail not.

RECORDER'S COURT.—Yesterday, Alex. Phillips was found guilty of an assault, (merely a technical one) upon Florence Donahue, and was sent to jail for five days.

THE CYRUS.—This steamer leaves this morning for below. Yesterday she took on 800 sacks of flour for Astoria.

IN TOWN.—A. W. McPherson, Esq., of the Salem Unionist, is in town and called on us yesterday.

J. WILKES BOOTH.—It is a wonder that J Wilkes Booth did not make a memorandum in his diary of the cheap clothing at Barman Bros. Prices A No 1 suits, $13 to $30; white shirts, $1 50 to $2 25; cassimere pants, $5 to $6 25; rubber neck ties, 50 cents.

PERFECTLY ENRAPTURING.—Such were our feelings as we stepped into the Music and Art Gallery of W. T. SHANAHEN, on First street, a few days since, and listened to the delightful tones and harmony which came from one of Mason & Hamlin's Cabinet Organs. From the soft breathing flute tones to the thundering bass of the pipe organ, all was equally free and sweet. And why is it other makers cannot produce instruments like these? Mason & Hamlin were the first to introduce the Cabinet Organ, and have gained such world-wide notoriety that it requires the work of two large factories to supply the demand for these valuable instruments.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF IDAHO—BOISE CITY, I. T.—Organized March 11th, 1867, (with circulation) under Act of Congress, approved June 3d, 1864. Authorized capital $500,000. Paid up capital, $100,000. B. M. Bullock, President. O. W. Moore, Cashier. Collections of Notes and Accounts on the principal places in Idaho Territory promptly attended to. Sight and Exchange for Coin or Currency on this Bank can be purchased of Ladd & Tilton, Portland, Oregon.

A SPLENDID INSTRUMENT.—We saw, yesterday, at J L. Parrish & Co's something new in the way of an organ—a French instrument called the Organ Harmonium—invented by Alphimas Rodolphe. It is a very considerable modification of the organ as we have them from the American manufactories. It is provided with sixteen stops, each of which exercises a distinct and peculiar effect upon the tone. The bass stops are the Forte, Jan Doux, (soft, sweet) Basson, Clarion, Boudon, English Horn; the treble stops are Expression, Tremolo, Scotch Bagpipe, Flute, Clarionette, Alfe, Hautbois, Voix Celeste, Forte, and Knee or Full Expression. The effect of these stops in changing the tone is most surprising. For instance from the flute to Voix Celeste with Full Expression, the tone changes from what sounds precisely like a soft flute, to the full grand harmony which we would expect from an Angel choir—what the name imports. The Key-Board is movable and can be adjusted to any key, to any instrument, or to the voice of any singer. Other changes are no less surprising. The instruments are of the most perfect workmanship and of the highest finish; have taken the first medals at all the great European Expositions. The prices range from $175, to $900. Persons in want of an instrument should call and see them, for it is impossible to get a correct idea of them, except from personal inspection. J. L. Parrish & Co., are sole agents for the Pacific coast.

Notice.—A Special Meeting of Willson Encampment No. 1 will be held this (Thursday) evening at 8 o'clock.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU and IMPROVED ROSE WASH cures secret and delicate disorders in all their stages, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience and no exposure. It is pleasant in taste and odor, immediate in its action, and free from all injurious properties.

FOR NON-RETENTION or INCONTINENCE of Urine, Irritation, Inflammation, or ulceration of the bladder, or kidneys, diseases of the prostrate glands, stone in the bladder, calculus, gravel or brick dust deposits, and all diseases of the bladder, kidneys and dropsical swellings, use HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU.

OREGONIANS should test the merits of DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. While it is highly palatable as a beverage, it is unequalled as a tonic and invigorator. In the pursuit of fortune at the mines, many persons are exposed to the attacks of complaints of the digestive organs, and of various kinds of fever. It is the very article that has so long been in demand at the mines. Its daily use will restore the tone of a deranged stomach, impart fresh vitality to the digestive functions, and cheer the spirits. As the Bitters is the safest of all stimulants. Let the miner who is exposed to hot and dry, wet and cold, be certain to obtain a supply of the genuine Hostetter Bitter, and he will find it a certain safeguard to health. Sold by Druggists and dealers everywhere.

The Love Lesson.

Maggie the milkmaid, went down to the dingle
Down to the dingle where the daisies dripped low
Daintily lifting her skirt gaily plaided
Just over the clover her feet waded through
Oh pretty white feet
How shiny shone mid the dew drops they floated not to me!

Maggie the milkmaid went down to the dingle,
Swinging her light pail on her arm,
Calling the cows through the mist of the morning,
Never sweeter calm had a land of such charm
Oh happy young maid!
As free for us all care as the sun is from shade

Maggie the milkmaid, is down in the dingle,
Milking the cows with a steady young hand,
While the gay carols of birds in the bushes
Have some sweet meaning she don't understand
Oh what do they sing,
Each bird to the other this heart gladdening Spring?

Oh, how the little birds laughed when they heard her!
Peeping so saucily out of their nest;
"Well to be sure! now what can take brought her
So fair, yet simple a maid for our quest?
Love, love, young maiden—
Love is life's sweetness, so song is love laden!"

Then out of pity the birds gan to sing to her,
All in a chorus as loud as could be,
Such trillings such wild things such carols and echoes,
That the air trembled with mild melody,
And each little bird
From its heart to the tips of its feathers seemed stirred

Maggie, the milkmaid, went out from the dingle,
Thoughtfully pealing her snow foaming pail,
While the warm sunlight that played with her blushes
Made her the loveliest flower in the vale.
But to her young heart
Came a new thought that morn, all too sweet to depart,

Next Spring when Maggie went down to the dingle—
Down to the dingle through the dew-laden clover—
Some one went with her to hear the sweet singing,
And a little bird whispered me news of a lover,
And oh with what glee
The birds sang around them as loud as could be!

Well Maggie now knew
Their wondrous sweet meaning that thrilled her heart through.
Ah, well gentle maiden,
Love is life's sweetness, so song is love laden

A Curious Scrap of Political History—A Reminiscence of Free Masonry.

[From Commercial Advertiser, Thurlow Weed, Editor]

The National Freemason of April 17th says

Thurlow Weed has lately purchased the Commercial Advertiser, a New York evening paper. In his salutatory, a few days ago, Mr. Weed entered into a review of his past political history It contains many of his reminiscences, but omits the principal incident of the beginning of his success—his connection with the anti-Masonic excitement in 1826. Thurlow Weed's little paper at Rochester was about expiring when he jumped aboard of the Morgan excitement and changed the name of his paper to that of the Anti Masonic Inquirer. It omits the handsome donation, through pious motives, to aid his Washington project, it omits the receipt, August 22, 1828, of $103 55 for pursuing Elisha Adams to Vermont and bringing him back to New York; it omits another $150 82 for pursuing to Vermont and apprehending Orson Parkhurst, it omits many reminiscences of this kind. While Thurlow Weed may have used the corpse of Tim Monroe as "a good enough Morgan until after the election," and by his reputed operation upon the corpse may have deserved the title of State Barber, it is strange that he should omit all reference to this part of his history.

The foregoing paragraph, drifting through our exchanges, turning the memory a great many revolutions backward, recalls both a tragedy and a romance. The bitterness of feeling which it engendered has been soothed by the lapse of years, so that now the survivors of those who then were angrily arrayed against each other not only meet as friends, but derive satisfaction in talking over with entire frankness the occurrence, its details and its result. Indeed the only man of the five who had the final disposition of Morgan, whenever we meet, says that it relieves his mind to talk it over.

This reference to "Elisha Adams" and "Orson Parkhurst" brings back trooping memories, takes us, through deep snows, to the summit of the Green Mountains of Vermont, where, before daylight, one morning, we rapped at the door of a log cabin A voice inquired "Who is there?" We asked for "Elisha Adams." The instant response from aloft was, "I am here and ready." The door was opened. A glowing bed of coals, in the immense fire-place, were most welcome, after a ride of nine miles in the cold. Adams came down a ladder, said good bye to his relations, and, with military promptness, led the way, going with us to Canandagua. The incidents connected with that journey are full of interest. At Burlington, Vt., for instance, where we remained from Saturday until Monday, the host, Col. Thomas, a most excellent gentleman, said to us on Monday morning "I am sorry to see you taking such an active part in this Morgan business. I am as zealous an Adams man as you are, but I would rather see General Jackson elected than to have Mr. Adams succeed by such a wicked conspiracy." He then added that an intimate friend, living in Western New York, had told him that we had engaged Morgan, raised a false cry of abduction to effect, and that the object of hunting Adams," who was stationed at Fort Ni[illegible] the time was merely to keep alive the excitement."

Adopting or affirming anything, we [illegible] to take Adams to one side and [illegible] conversation, he added to the belief that we were political "conspirators," to denounce me as such, but that, in the after hand, in his conversation with "Adams" should his opinion, to say nothing. Col. Thomas had his conversation with the old soldier. When leaving his hotel he took his cordially by the hand, but spoke not a word.

For Parkhurst we traveled through seven States, finding him at last at work in a town (Bedfield, if we remember right,) near Windsor, Vt. On our way to Rochester with him all went smoothly until, having traveled the Montezuma marshes by canal, needing rest, and after our prisoner had retired, as there was no landing place for several hours, we turned in, and, refreshed by three hours' sleep, woke up to learn, to our consternation, that the "bird" had flown." It was accomplished in this way: At Albany Mrs. Ezra Platt was informed that we had found Parkhurst, and were going with him to Rochester, where, it was supposed his evidence would convict her husband. Mrs. Platt immediately assumed man's apparel, took the Telegraph line of stages, reached Montezuma before us, and just at dusk came on board the boat. While we slept Mrs. Platt woke up Parkhurst, who had been in the employment of her husband, boarded with them, and been kindly "taken care of when sick. The captain of the boat (who was known to Mrs. Platt) sent his steersman to bed, took the helm himself, and handed our prisoner within a few miles of the residence of a brother of Mr. Platt. We went, bewildered and mortified, to Rochester, brooding for months over the mysterious circumstance. But when Gen. Mathews, one of the counsel on the other side, informed us how it was done, admiration for a noble-hearted woman abundantly consoled us. Years afterward, Mr. Parkhurst, then a respected and enterprising manufacturer at Cohoes, and our personal and political friend, used to talk and laugh over the incident as often as we met. The circumstance is related in the late Col. William L. Stone's history of the Morgan Trials

During the exciting political campaign of 1863, Gov. Marcy avenged himself handsomely for a rent and "patch" which we had discovered in his "pantaloons." As Controller of State, in making up his report to the legislature, he discovered in the accounts of the late John C. Spencer, who was employed by the State to prosecute the abduction of Morgan, the following item: "For transporting Thurlow Weed to Auburn, $7 50."

This item included stage fare from Rochester to Auburn, and gig-hire from Auburn to Owaska Lake, where we obtained from acting Gov. Throop a requisition for Parkhurst

Gov. Marcy sent the "item" to the Albany Argus. In publishing it, Mr. Croswell remarked that if the individual thus "transported to Auburn had been furnished with permanent lodgings, there, even at a much larger figure, the State could well afford to pay it."

We did not, as this paragraph assumes, "change the name of our paper at Rochester We were, when this excitement arose, publishing, in company with Robt. Martin, the Rochester Telegraph, with ample support and good prospects An editorial on the subject of what was unaccountable at the time Morgan's abduction gave serious offence Subscribers fell off and advertisements were stopped. Unwilling to ruin our partner as well as ourself, we left him, hoping to get away from a storm that we had unwittingly raised But though a Whig editor was wanted at Utica and at Troy, we were headed off by letters denouncing us as a Morgan agitator This, however, was long before it was ever thought of making it a political question. Unable to get employment away from Rochester—for although not a Freemason, we had much reverence for an institution to which Washington and Lafayette belonged, and of which, also, our warm political and personal friends were members, and with whom we were unwilling to differ—we were forced to starve or fight. And hence the establishment—with means furnished by Samuel Works, Harvey Ely, Frederick Whittlesey, James H. Wadsworth, Frederick F Backus and James K. Livingston—of the Anti Masonic Enquirer The question assumed its political aspect, unexpectedly, in a village charter election.

But lest this article should grow tedious, we hasten to a conclusion by saying that the "Good enough Morgan" story originated in a joke, and though used with effect, politically for many years, was known at Rochester by all who cared for the truth to be wholly unfounded. Whenever uttered the expression What we did say to Ebenezer Griffin and others, who were insisting that the body found at Oak Orchard Creek, was that of Timothy Monroe, and in reply to the question of "what will you do for a Morgan?" was "That it is a good enough Morgan till you bring back the one carried away"

It was also well known that we, of all others took the greatest pains and have the widest notice of the inquest to be held over that body and that, after an investigation in the presence of 200 witnesses, the body was, in accordance with the views of every person present, recognized as that of William Morgan Subsequently when it was claimed by the widow and son of Timothy Monroe after all the strange contradictory and bewildering testimony was heard, we alone of all the members of our Committee, and of those to whom Morgan was personally known, entertained doubts upon the subject

The allusion in this paragraph to "Washington" came from the Herald, whose editor, in 1827 as Washington correspondent of the Courier and Enquirer, invented a slander about Mr. Clay which, like the "good enough Morgan" cry, was used with effect, like other slanders, for several years

Morgan finished his book in a house adjoining that in which he resided at Rochester Mr Dyer his friend, after enjoining secrecy, showed us the manuscript, and asked us to print it We did not think that a man who had taken such oaths to keep secret at liberty to reveal them, and declined the printing of the book which created all that "excitement"

We lost another opportunity, about the same for "imprint" fame by declining to print Joe Smith's Bible He came to us from Palmyra, with his then unpublished manuscripts Upon reading a few pages of unintelligible jargon, we inquired if he was in earnest about publishing such trash, when, placing what he called a "Golden Tablet" in his hat, he read from it another chapter of revelations Still we were incredulous, and advised him to burn, instead of printing Soon afterward he came again, bringing Arnold Harris, a well-to do farmer and convert, to mortgage his farm as security But we advised Harris to eschew Mormonism and keep his farm Like Dandie Dinmont, who, when Counselor Playdell refused his retainer, resolved to employ another lawyer, "Joe" went across the street to Elihu Marshall, another printer, who took the job, got his pay, along with the glory of being the first printer of a Mormon Bible.

Progress of Invention.

Any thinking man who will walk through a well appointed machine shop, and observe the massive yet beautiful automatic machines working away at what the designer intended they should do, with a degree of steadiness and celerity which must be seen to be understood, cutting cast iron, wrought iron and even steel as noiselessly, and apparently as easily as if they were so much putty, and with a precision but one remove from absolute perfection, cannot but be astonished and pleased. Whether the work be turning, planing, drilling, or whatever it may be, the man who has the oversight of the machine stands at his ease, although attentive, like a master over a servant, as sured that if he does his part properly his mechanical servant will perform his part of the operation aright.

We hardly realize how much of our civilization we owe to these admirable machines. But for them no man would ever have seen Philadelphia and Pittsburg in the same twenty four hours, for the construction of a locomotive would have been an impossibility without them. No human skill is adequate to the fabrication of such a machine without the aid of these automatic tools. Let the observer in the machine shop, after watching the operations turn to a workman, no matter how skillful, who, with hammer, chisel and file is doing some work upon which a machine cannot be brought to bear, and then he will see the difference.

Smiths' Industrial Biography has a very interesting chapter on "Mechanical Inventions and Inventors." The difficulties encountered by Jas Watt, the inventor of the steam engine, for want of machine tools, is graphically set forth. We quote a few sentences:

"Writing to Dr. Roebuck, (he was then operating in Glasgow,) he said, 'you ask what is the principal hindrance in erecting engines? It is always the smith-work.' His first cylinder was made by a whitesmith, of hammered iron soldered together; but having used quicksilver to keep the cylinder airtight, it dropped through the inequalities into the interior, and played the devil with the solder. * * * His next cylinder was cast and bored at Carron, but it was so untrue that it proved most to useless. The piston could not be kept steam-tight, notwithstanding the various expedients which were adopted of stuffing it with paper, cork, putty, pasteboard and old hats. Even after Watt had removed to Birmingham, and had the assistance of Boulton's best workmen, Smeaton expressed the opinion, when he saw the engine at work, that, notwithstanding the excellency of the invention, it could never be brought into general use, because of the difficulty of getting its various parts manufactured with sufficient precision. For a long time we find Watt, in his letters, complaining to his partner of the failure of his engines through villainous bad workmanship! * * * Nearly everything had to be done by hand. The tools used were of a very imperfect kind. A few ill-constructed lathes, with some drills and boring machines of a rude sort, constituted the principal furniture of the workshop. * * * It was not until the invention of automatic machine tools that the manufacture of the steam engine became a matter of comparative ease and certainty. Watt was forced to rest satisfied with imperfect results, arising from imperfect workmanship Thus writing to Dr. Small respecting a cylinder eighteen inches in diameter, he said 'At the worst place the long diameter exceeded the short by only three eighths of an inch' How different from the state of things at this day, when a cylinder five feet wide will be rejected as a piece of imperfect workmanship if it be found to vary in any part more than the eightieth part of an inch in diameter!"

It is just one hundred years since Watt was struggling in Glasgow with his first experimental engines In 1768 he removed to Birmingham and entered into co-partnership with Dr. John Roebuck, who relieved him of pecuniary embarrassment and enabled him to bring his great invention to such a degree of perfection as secured it against failure and abandonment, and in some measure rewarded the indefatigable inventor for his anxiety and toil It was Watt's great invention, more than anything else, that created the necessity for the various and admirable automatic machine tools with which the world is now benefitted and blessed, and as a true old proverb has it, "necessity is the mother of invention."

ENGLAND AND THE COTTON SUPPLY.—England is making extraordinary efforts to gain control of the cotton supply of the world. The New York Herald says:

These efforts have been successful, too, in increasing the production, for it is estimated that over a hundred and twenty five per cent more will be produced in the Bombay presidency this year than in the year before, without taking into account the increasing production in the provinces of Berar and other parts of India The yield of clean cotton is nearly three hundred thousand bales, reckoning, as we do four hundred pounds to the bale, in the northern division of the presidency alone, for the year 1866–7 Where thirty pounds an acre only were formerly raised, seventy pounds are now obtained through improved cultivation and better seed But the report of the Cotton Commissioner states that the efforts to acclimatize the Sea Island, New Orleans and Peruvian, Egyptian and Dharwar cotton have all failed, as compared with the native Hingaughat and Berar The Commissioner says that cotton production has already gained such a position in India as will enable it to bear the full force of commercial depression and the lower prices that must come He has "no doubt that well directed means and energy will prove as successful in the long run" as they were in the Southern States of America

A NAVY JOKE.—The joke on Captain M's blunder was scarcely worse than the orders of Capt S of the United States sloop of war stationed on Puget Sound during the same war They were to the following effect: "You will cruise on the coast of Oregon, and protect the overland emigration to the Pacific" As the termination of the emigration was the Dalles, some 200 miles up the the Columbia river, it was deemed impracticable by the Captain to carry out his orders. Shortly afterward S was relieved by another commander, and he showed him the bungling order of the Commodore of the Pacific Squadron "Why," said Captain G, "you may laugh at that as much as you choose, but I have in my possession an order more absurd than that." He produced a letter to this effect, signed by the Secretary of the Navy in 1853, and directed to the commanding officer of the New York Navy Yard "You will direct Lieutenants G and B, now attached to the Navy Yard, to volunteer for duty on board the steamer Alabama, to go in search of the mail steamer San Francisco" Capt G said he obeyed the order, but never exactly understood how he could be ordered and volunteer.

THE MOBILE REBELLION.—Mobile has given an illustration of its plan of reconstruction, by an organized attack on Mr Kelley and the assembly to whom he was speaking The account shows the same organization an l control of the city authorities as in the massacre of the Conventionists at New Orleans. The signal was given by the fire bells A band fired their pistol into the party upon the stand Then a large armed body ad vanced with a regular skirmish line, firing into the assembly. It corroborates the previous evidence that the rebel military organizations are kept up

The rebel leaders go into the North with entire confidence that they will be treated the same as other men They go with perfect security into communities abounding in widows and orphans of their making, among the parents, brothers and sons of soldiers whom they have starved and tortured to death. Prominent loyal men of the North step forward to become security for the leader and

Thaddeus Stevens Vindicates his Proposed Policy of Confiscation

WASHINGTON May 29

Thaddeus Stevens has written the following letter in vindication of his proposed policy of confiscation.

LANCASTER Pa., May 20th

DEAR SIR Short as your letter is, I feel I cannot answer it without violating an injunction of medical advisers not to become excited You live in a section which was two or three times, invaded by the armies of Jefferson Davis—in the counties of Bedford Fulton, Franklin, Cumberland, Adams and York They visited almost every farmer and other inhabitant, and plundered them of their horses, cattle, provisions and money, when found Besides some detached cases, they laid in ashes one thriving village of 6 000 people, and turned the inhabitants houseless into the streets to seek homes in the fence corners No provision has ever been made or is being made to reimburse the plundered citizens By the law of nations a government makes no compensations for damages done by an invading army, unless such government be victorious when it always provides by treaty for payment by the vanquished enemy A government which neglects to make such provisions on behalf of its plundered citizens is basely negligent of its duty A quasi peace exists between the late belligerents, the terms of which are dictated wholly by Congress which is under the control of the Republican party Nothing but the proceeds of the confiscation of a small portion of the property of the wealthy can be applied to pay the damage inflicted by the marauders, unless it be paid out by the Treasury of the United States A few Republican motors—always erratic in their course—are flitting through and exploding in the Republican atmosphere They attract sufficient public attention to enable them to assure the amiable rebels who inflicted this injury that they need fear no confiscation, that nobody of any note in the North is in favor of it, opposing which punishment, for the sake of remuneration or justice, they assure them that nothing shall be taken from Aiken, lately worth millions, or from Hampton, Davis, Orr, Faulkner, or from a thousand others who are still worth their hundreds of thousands, to reimburse the loyal men North and South who were plundered of their estates, and to aid your poor neighbors to rebuild their humble tenements It is scarcely to be endured that Congress for two sessions should sit indifferent to those sufferings, and take no steps to enforce these rights Those remarks apply to large portions of Maryland, of West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana and Missouri, as well as the Slave States He who can patiently listen to that piece of humility which we see propagated has more command of himself than I have Indeed it looks as if we were still to add to the burden of our taxation to defray the expenses of transportation of triumphant traitors, but I must stop or I shall commit the fault against which I have been warned.

With great respect, your obedient Servant
THADDEUS STEVENS.

The Democratic Party.

The Brooklyn Union, of May 20th, comes down on the Democratic party in the following vigorous style:

The Democratic party died by suicide at Chicago in 1863 Its platform was its epitaph—"an immediate cessation of hostilities." Then it sank—since it has remained—beneath the waters of public contempt and nationalidetestation. Some times it comes to the surface It did in Connecticut. Its temporary, partial success there was the kicking of a galvanized corpse Nat Lazarus like, "four days," but nigh "four years" it "has been dead," and "by this time it stinketh" As with nations, so with parties, its judgments and punishments are in this world, and there is no resurrection for it. Why did it die? Because it called evil good. Because it worshipped the abomination of slavery. It sought by its chosen chiefs the life of the nation, and struck at its heart. It tried to reverse the laws of God, by bidding the strong to grow stronger out of the weakness of the weak. It filled our army with traitors, our navy with perjurers, our departments with thieves, our Congress with bullies and braggarts, our offices with those stooped to the eyes in fraud, in lies, and in crime Losing an election it flew to rebellion, and nourished a set of traitors, of murderers, of men traitorous only through irremediable ignorance, or through wholesome fear of the halter in the South, and in the North hatched a brood too cowardly to fight in open battle, but useful as manipulators in the interest of treason. Its weapons South were terrorism, wholesale conscription, irresponsible thefts on its subjects, and for its victims the pestilence, the gallows the bowie knife, starvation, poisoning, freezing to death, and all the ingenuity of murder which fiendish ness could contrive. In the North it subsidized presses to sow discord in the name of the Constitution; to magnify rebel prowess and underdraw Union successes, to laud incompetent Union Generals, so as to give treason longer lease and less peril; to depreciate our currency and oppose with all energy every effort put forth by a bleeding, almost bankrupt, nation to save its own life. It hired fiends to fire our cities, to poison our reservoirs, to inject among our people yellow fever and small pox, and finally to compass the assassination of our President and the main members of our Government. That Democratic party did this is as obvious as the truth that a man's motives are the criterion by which to judge him. The leaders and warriors of rebellion, and the hordes that massed to its side, only fought, starved and poisoned because the doctrines they advocated failed in the ballot, and they sought by the bullet to incorporate the same dogmas in a Government of their own. The Confederacy was the Democratic theory fighting. The Confederates were only Democrats seeking success by force instead of by voting and discussion. Their claims were slavery and State supremacy. What Lee fought for, what Jackson died for, the World argued for, Kennedy fired for and Booth murdered for Now that their force has been overcome, they return, Democrats still, to their old time resources of politics. They no longer dare assume the name of slavery But they ostracise blacks, murder them, soil them for years, in lieu of for life, and passing apparently equal laws for the negro, refuse him lawful, unless extorted by the bayonet. They kill and drive out of the country all the white patriots that refuse to betray the flag, make business impassible to loyalty, and the life of a Unionist not worth a cent, if he lives beyond the revolle sound of a Union regiment.

AN ORIGINAL INCOME RETURN.—The following is a copy of a return forwarded to an Assistant Assessor in the 7th United States Internal Revenue District of New York

DEAR SIR: In acknowledging the receipt of the blanks which you were so kind as to leave at my residence, I have to say that, however much I may regret the fact, it is nevertheless true that my financial standing does not, and from all appearances will not, allow me to assist in lubricating the wheels of the Government I cannot refrain, however, from filling the blanks as requested

I have some little property, and, although not unpunctured in the printed sheets, will you allow me, if for nothing else than my own gratification, to place them in my hands:

One little mare named , (sound and kind in all harness, stands without tying and eats anything), and of little value

A buggy, not yet paid for, though good for several years (It is now repairing)

I have also a dog, five cats and two pigs, and the sexes of the latter are equally represented

Judging from the past, I am free to say that if I keep the pigs through the summer, I shall be obliged to call upon the United States to assist me I do not know how in the world I do to get along, and am happy only when I know that a rich man cannot enter the kindom of heaven

My clothes are all second hand, and my boots are about gone. No tailor has made me a suit for years, and since the publishing of income returns was commenced, my credit has been sadly mistaken But being poor, I yet hope and strive, and work, and wish—and better than all, I am happy Find the man who pays his $20,000 income and then come and visit me, and judge yourself of "life among the lowly," and which is the happier

When my boy grows up I hope he may excel his father in financial ability, of which no one who knows me doubts, and that you, may live long enough to visit him for many years to collect his income tax

Yours, etc,

San Francisco.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES
Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

816 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc Skin Diseases Loss of Hair Shaking Nerves and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgence, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene Let parents, guardians, friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies see that they are cured for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chaises, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure Dr G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he has cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of those fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

TO THE LADIES.

The various complicated and distressing diseases incident to females treated with eminent success Such as suppressions, Irregularities, Whites, Falling of the Womb, Sinuous, all Urinary Diseases, Nervous Debility Painful or Difficult Menstruation, Barrenness, etc., will be scientifically cured without poisonous drugs, injuries or unpalatable medicines of any kind Have no delicacy in calling no difference what your troubles may be The afflicted are cordially invited to call and satisfy themselves.

Persons calling at Dr. Gibbon's office or sending for packages of medicines, may rely upon his assurances of confidential secrecy with implicit faith, and expect no more than to be charged with a fair, and mutually satisfactory remuneration for services rendered, considering the circumstances and difficulties of cases, rather than the too prevalent and selfish practice of extortion among quacks and pretenders.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Doctor Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 816 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.

Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian jy6d4p1f

Fountain of Life!
GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER!

IN EVERY PROGRESSIVE SCIENCE PERIODS ARRIVE when a new direction is imparted to its course These epochs proceed from discovery of new facts unfolding a light which changes the whole aspect of the science. The present is an epoch of this kind, and this Great Remedy, now offered to the public, in connection with the theory on which it is based, is destined to effect an entire revolution in the treatment of the diseases of

SCROFULA AND KING'S EVIL!

by eradicating the disease entirely from the blood. The FOUNTAIN OF LIFE is composed entirely of vegetable extracts; it contains no Mercury or other mineral substance

The Proprietor and Discoverer of this Sovereign Remedy CHALLENGES THE WORLD to furnish anything, from the days of Æsculapius down to the present time, in the arcana of Medical Science, which can vie with or excel the intrinsic properties of this Great Blood Purifier Its value has been tested with the happiest effect in the most obstinate cases of Scrofula, that baffled the skill of the most eminent physicians in the world No matter what form the dreadful disease of SCROFULA and KING'S EVIL may have assumed, it can in no way be more safely and certain
